The colloquium Nurturing Unity in Diversity is the fourth in a series dealing with the identity and mission of Catholic Church-based organisations and agencies. Building on the success of the three previous colloquia, the 2010 colloquium is designed particularly for present and future leaders. Its specific focus will be on the sectoral, demographic, gender and institutional diversity of Catholic involvement in the public sphere, with a view to discerning and exploring how true and effective unity in identity and mission might be nurtured and celebrated. Through a mix of keynote addresses and guided conversations, it will offer the opportunity to explore common experiences and learn from one another's insights in a mutually supportive environment.
